

PIZZA WORKS

Mini Newsletter – December 2006

Dear Friends,

December is upon us and the holidays. We are finally back after having no power for 5 days. We had a full newsletter prepared, but the storm reduced us to this format so we could get it to you before Christmas.

Remember to buy a couple of Take & Bake pizzas for those unexpected holiday guests.

Pizza Works is up for sale, we are sad to say. Things were going great, we had a growth rate of 4.5% in one year and the customer base had expanded by 62%, but we couldn't keep up with the rate of inflation. When Videos Plus closed, many of the "video and pizza" people stopped coming in. We love this place but it takes more than love to run a business. Pizza Works and the other local small businesses stay alive through the patronage of their customers. Our hope is that Pizza Works, which has been in the Inglewood Mall for 12 years and the other independent businesses will continue to serve their community's needs. We wish to thank those of you who are regular customers and if the rest of you truly want your Independent Pizza Restaurant to stay alive all it would take is everyone who receives this newsletter to buy at least 1 pizza a month.

EDNA'S CORNER

Dear Friends of Pizza Works,

This is going to be short and sweet--

'Tis the season for family and friends and to count our blessings. I want to thank all of you for your support of Pizza Works thru last year and in the past. I don't know what the future holds but then nobody does.

The Christmas ships are coming on the 22nd of Dec. pizza and hot chocolate go well together. Take one of our pizzas to that holiday party for Hors D'oeuvres.
